FLOOD AND FAMINE.

Washington's Freshet Proving to Be Very Serious.

LIVES AND PROPERTY LOST

Both Men and Horses Starving and Entirely Cut Off from All Food Supplies.

A Town in Danger of Being Washed Entirely Away.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 25.—News from the flood in the distant Skymawmish river shows the damage to be enormous, and that the next freshet may cause the river to take a new course, thereby destroying the business part of the town of Sultan. A famine is likely to occur among the railroad camps, both among the men and horses, unless some means are devised of getting supplies from east of the mountains.

A tree fell across the camp of James Park, near Stevens City, killing three men and seriously injuring Ed O'Brien and two others. The names of the others have not been reported. No mails have gotten into Sultan since Nov. 18.

A startling story of starvation among the miners in the mountains east of Snohomish reached here yesterday by E. T. Keit and Fritz Ellingtonstone, who had been for fifty hours without food. The freshets hummed the miners in, and on account of their exhausted condition, they were unable to get to the transport and obtain a new supply of food. Keit and Ellingtonstone are the only men out of fifty miners who started for Snohomish last Monday to get in. The others dropped along the route from sheer exhaustion and want of food, and it is feared that they are lost in the woods.

The survivors had scarcely any clothing when they arrived, which, with their pinched and gaunt features, dumbly testified to the truth of their alarming tale.

Railroad traffic has been about entirely suspended, and what little is being done transfers have to be made at big washouts and landslides. The Seattle and Northern railroad trouble will not be repaired for several days, the break being worse than at first supposed. The Everett and Monte Cristo road is in such bad shape that repairs will not be completed for sixty days.

The Seattle and Montana began running trains north yesterday, making several transfers, but the transcontinental line of the Great Northern is in such bad condition on both sides of the Cascade that there is danger of the line not being completed this winter, a number of bridges and grades being washed out along the Wenatchie river and Icicle creek.

The floods, while giving employment to many men, has led to somewhat of a famine in beef and milk. Besides the delay in shipping products much stock has been drowned. The muddy water of the sound has completely stopped the profitable salmon fisheries for a time.

A remarkable landslide occurred on the Tacoma and Steilacoom railroad. The breaking away of a high embankment revealed several hundred dollars in $20 gold pieces. Several men in the vicinity quickly gathered up the coins, and the news of the find soon spread. The money is supposed to have been buried there some years ago by John Lock, a prosperous brewer of Steilacoom, who was believed to be wealthy; but as he was not known to have had any relatives, it was somewhat of a mystery at the time of his death where his money went, and this discovery may lead to its recovery. Further search will likely be instituted.

EXILED.

A Wealthy Russian Nobleman Now Living in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—Josef Ignatz Strizikowski, who is not to blame for his name, and who will be Count Ossolinski in the future, lives in a modest little cottage in the Polish settlement in the East End. His estates were confiscated by the Russian government and he became an exile.

Several days ago he received the news of his pardon and restoration of his ancestral estates. He will return home at once. In 1863 he joined the revolt of Mieroslawski against the oppressors of his country. When the insurrection was put down he was sent to Siberia and his lands were confiscated. He spent fourteen years on the Ural mountains, and escaping then, joined the Turks in their war against the Russians. He became so conspicuous that a Russian order was issued that he be shot on sight. During the last fifteen years he has been a wanderer. His estate and personal property is worth, all told, about $1,500,000.

Miners Have Reasons to Be Thankful.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 25.—The miners of the Pinebrook and Caphouse shaft of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, numbering 600, were yesterday given an increase of 10 per cent. in wages for mining coal, and for cutting cross headings they were increased from fifty cents per yard to $1.41. Laborers and all other employees about the mines and breaker of the company were also given increases of from ten to thirty cents per day.

Resisted Arrest.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—Wednesday night an intoxicated peanut vendor named Frigoleo, while resisting arrest, was fatally shot by Patrolman Hill. Another officer who had come to Hill's assistance, was stabbed by the Italian, but his wounds are not serious.

Eight Rounds to a Draw.

DETROIT, Nov. 25.—The eight-round glove contest between Thomas Ryan, of Chicago, the champion welterweight, and Jack Collins, the instructor of the Detroit Athletic club, at the auditorium last night, resulted in a draw.

MYSTERIOUS DEATHS.

A Farmer Suspected of Poisoning All Five of His Children.

RIVERTON, Ia., Nov. 25.—The mysterious death of Mrs. William Mayhar who resided on a farm here with her husband and her two children by a former marriage, has created considerable excitement in Fremont county. When Mayhar was living near Axtell Kan., some time ago, after the death of his fourth wife, he advertised in the newspapers for a housekeeper, and the advertisement was answered by Mrs. Erbeck, of Axtell, and she was engaged. In course of a short time she became Mrs. Mayhar.

After the marriage the pair removed to Riverton and went to live on a farm. Judging from appearances Mayhar and his wife lived happily together, although rumor had it that there was considerable trouble in the household. On Oct. 24 Mrs. Mayhar had a violent attack of toothache and her husband filled six capsules with quinino and his wife took three of them thinking the drug would relieve her pain. On the evening of Oct. 25 Mrs. Mayhar swallowed the other three capsules, and was almost immediately seized with violent spasms within an hour.

Rumor had it that Mayhar had made way with several wives and the coroner determined to hold an inquest. The body of wife No. 5 was disinterred and the stomach, brain and lungs were sent to the state chemist for analysis. It disclosed strichine poisoning, and the jury Wednesday rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts. It is stated that there was an insurance of $5,000 on the life of Mrs. Mayhar, which was taken out after her marriage.

Mayhar is sixty years old and a native of Ireland. When twenty-one years old he married a California woman, who soon died of consumption. Mayhar says. In 1868 he married a Mrs. Travis. In two years she was taken sick and died.

Three months later Mayhar married Mattie Hoon, a Sidney (la.) woman. She lived twelve years. The Mayhars moved to Axtell, Kan., and one morning wife No. 3 died while at the breakfast table.

After the lapse of three years Mayhar married Miss Anna Lamb, of Sidney. They went to Axtell, and there wife No. 4 died of spinal trouble, according to Mayhar's story. Then Mayhar married Mrs. Erbeck.

HAWAII'S NEW CABINET.

Its Members Desire Closer Commercial Relations with the United States.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The steamer Monowai brings news from Honolulu that the cabinet, on being interrogated by a native member, replied that it is the intention of the new cabinet to negotiate a reciprocity treaty with the United States to cede Pearl harbor to the United States, to use as a repairing and coaling station as long as the treaty remains in effect.

The cabinet announced that it would be the policy of the government to maintain the autonomy and independence of the Hawaiian kingdom and promote closer commercial relations with the United States.

It also gave notice that no measure tending to legalize a lottery can be supported.

AGAIN BEHIND BARS.

Mrs. Bertha Laws Rearrested for Passing Bogus Checks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Bertha Laws, who was arrested some weeks ago, together with Domingo Ruiz, the consul general of Ecuador, on charges of negotiating a forged note for $1,000, and who is under $2,000 bail awaiting trial, was rearrested Thursday for passing bogus checks.

Mrs. Laws since her release has passed a number of bogus checks for small amounts upon various shop and hotel keepers, some of whom complained to the police and caused her arrest.

A number of pawn tickets for jewelry which she had pledged and several losing tickets on the Guttenberg races were found in her possession.

DEAD BODY FOUND.

Fished Out of a Canal, Showing Evidence of Poul Play.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 25.—The body of John Griffin was yesterday fished out of the canal in this city. Three deep gashes were found in the head and face. Further examination developed the fact that Griffin's left elbow was shattered by a sharp blow. The wound was apparently received while in the act of throwing up his arm to ward off a blow aimed at his head.

It is the opinion of men who saw the body that foul murder was done. Griffin left home on the morning of Nov. 18, and was last seen that night. He quarreled with a street car conductor who put him off. He was slightly intoxicated.

Scalded to Death in Beer.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Nov. 25.—William Gehl, son of Conrad Gehl, the proprietor of Gehl's brewery at this place, while walking through the building where the vats are, tripped and fell headlong into one of those receptacles, which contained beer in a boiling state. He disappeared beneath the surface of the superheated liquid, and on reappearing was dragged out, but he was horribly burned. He was removed to his home, where he died in a couple of hours after intense suffering.

Mr. Blaine Not Ill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—There were disquieting rumors during the day as to Mr. Blaine having suffered a relapse. Inquiries at his residence at 11 p. m. were met by positive statements that Mr. Blaine was not worse, all rumors to the contrary notwithstanding.

Foot Ball Game.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The foot ball game between the Yale and Princeton clubs yesterday resulted in a victory for Yale in a score of twelve to nothing.

GERMAN EMIGRATION

A Bill Laid Before the Reichstag to Restrict It.

ITS PROVISIONS VERY SEVERE

No One Allowed to Leave the Country That Has Any Obligations Due the State or Private Persons—Other Information from Across the Ocean.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—A bill to regulate and to a certain degree to restrict emigration has been laid before the Reichstag. According to its provisions persons proposing to emigrate must give notice to the police, who will advertise the matter, so that all those having obligations still due to the state or private persons may be compelled to discharge the same before leaving. If no protest be raised against a person's departure, he will receive a certificate which will enable him to embark unhindered. A person trying to emigrate without such a certificate, will be liable to a fine of 150 marks or imprisonment.

German consuls will, for the future, be required to aid in the compilation of the emigration statistics, and it is also proposed to establish a special emigration department in the foreign office, where information will be collected and advice given to intending emigrants. The latter, however, will only be allowed to leave the country from German harbors, and the emigration agents are to be restricted to the employment of German shipping companies, whose headquarters are in German ports, for the transport of emigrants.

Crimm Confesses to Murder.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The man who confessed to having murdered and cut up the body of a woman, found in an unfinished house on the Rue Botzaris, about four weeks ago, is believed to be crazy. The police have learned that formerly he was a reporter in Montreal. He is acquainted with many Paris newspaper men, who say that he has pretended off and on that he represented a large firm of New York jewelers. While returning from London to Paris on Sunday he told several of his fellow travelers that he had a fine plan for imposing on the credulity of the public. He would show, he said, how easily the cleverest people and police in the world could be fooled. He has been known in Paris as Robert Guzman and Andrew Frederick.

RUMORS ABOUT WILLIAM WALDORF ASTOR.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The correspondent of the International Telegram company has been unable to find traces of any London rumors that William Waldorf Astor is suffering from mental unsoundness. In fact no hint to that effect was heard here before Tuesday, when dispatches of inquiry were received from New York. Aside from these dispatches the whole matter, both rumors and rumors of rumors, appear to have been a mere fabrication. Mr. Astor's household, while refusing to discuss the subject at length, declare the "New York" reports to be malicious lies." Mr.

Astor himself is in Scotland. Shortly before leaving he received a call from Mr. Gladstone, who talked with him for a long time on English and American politics.

Complaint Against Promiscuous Shooting.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The Baron De Kaltenborn-Stachan was interrogated in the Reichstag yesterday in regard to the frequency with which sentinels fired upon civilians, often, apparently, without proper cause. The minister replied that the number of sentinels would be lessened as soon as the civil authorities would give suitable protection to the public buildings, where the lack of such protection made it necessary for sentinels to be stationed. In busy streets it was already the rule not to supply sentinels with ammunition.

Burned Up an Entire Family.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 25.—The peasants in the vicinity of Zastryki, Lithuania, surrounded the hut of a horse thief named Ivanski, on Monday, with the intention of lynching him. Ivanski and his family defended themselves with guns and wounded several of the lynching party. The peasants got scythes and pitchforks and again tried to capture Ivanski, but were repulsed before, with several wounded. They then set fire to the house and Ivanski, his wife and five children were burned to death.

The Kaiser Recovering.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegraph company from Berlin states that The Reichszeitung announces that the Kaiser, who has been suffering with chills, passed a good night and is recovering.

Crispi Got One Vote.

ROME, Nov. 25.—Deputy Zahardelli was elected president of the chamber yesterday, receiving 276 votes in 447. Crispi received but one vote.

Drought Along the Mexican Border.

GALVESTON, Nov. 25.—A special from Havana, on the Mexican border, to the Galveston News says: The drought continues all along this valley. No late crops have been raised and many poor Mexican families are in need of the most important articles of food, corn, etc., and unless assistance is soon given they will be in a worse condition than last year.

Tried to Blow Up a House.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 25.—At 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night this town was shaken by an explosion of giant powder, set off in the rear of a house of ill-fame. Every pane of glass in the building was broken, and the kitchen and dining room completely wrecked. Nobody was injured. There is no clew to the culprit.

LIVED A FAST LIFE.

A Young Clerk Steals $25,000 Worth of His Employers' Property.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 25.—The efficiency of the Newark police force never received a better illustration than that furnished by Captain Daly and Detective Wiggins, of the Third precinct, in the discovery and a rest of the principal in one of the most daring, systematic and wholesale robberies ever committed in the city of New York. The wholesale firearms and sporting goods house of Shoeverling, Daly & Gales, of Broadway and Dime street, New York, has been robbed by employees during the past four years of about $25,000 worth of merchandise, and George Eiche twenty-one years old, who lived with his mother at the corner of Green and Broad streets, this city, is at present confined in the Tombs, a self-confessed robber.

While pursuing their investigations on another case a number of brand new Smith & Wesson hammerless revolvers of the latest improved type were found. It was learned that the weapons, while worth not less than $18 and $25 each, according to the catalog, were either pawned or sold for $5 or less. Detective Wiggins remembers that about two years ago, immediately preceding the Fourth of July, a young man named Eiche, employed by the firm of Shoeverling, Daly & Gales, of New York, had agreed to furnish a local dealer with cartridges at fifty cents per 1,000, worth in large quantities about six times that amount.

A citizen who had purchased a revolver from the young man, had agreed to purchase a combination tool, containing brads, awls, chisels, etc., such as is used by sportsmen. Eiche was to bring him the tool at noon Wednesday, and was promptly on hand according to agreement. The tool was accepted, paid for, and Eiche returned to New York. Captain Daly and Detective Wiggins secured the tool and started after Eiche. In New York they were joined by Detective Sergeant Alonzo, of headquarters staff, and went to a place at the corner of Broadway and Dime streets, opposite the Shoeverling, Daly & Gales building. A messenger was sent for Eiche, and the latter appeared in a few moments in response to the summons and when accused in an indirect manner, became quite indignant and protested his innocence.

"When confronted with the proof of his guilt," said Captain Daly, "his demeanor quickly changed. The defiant air was gone, and breaking down completely, he made a clean breast of the entire affair. After concluding his story we asked if he would make the statement to the firm that he had made to us. He replied in the affirmative, and asked that Mr. Daly be sent for."

Mr. Daly and the members of the firm to whom the confession was repeated roughly estimates the loss at about $25,000.

Detective Wiggins said yesterday: "The fact that Eiche was receiving only $10 a week salary, all of which he gave to his mother, and at the same time led a gay life for a young man of twenty-one, on the fifty cents a week he was allowed for spending money, led me to believe he was the culprit. He played the horses, had several girls, was out carriage riding frequently, took in the theaters, and, on the whole, led the life of a sport. That can't be done on fifty cents a week."

IN AN INSANE ASYLUM.

Death of One of Washington's Well Known Characters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The death is just announced of "Colonel" Morris Pinchover, one of Washington's most widely known characters, and whose reputation, in fact, extended far beyond the capital. He died of pneumonia in the United States insane asylum.

To all prominent congressmen and senators and to many others in public life, the name and claims of "Colonel" Morris Pinchover were familiar. He was of German birth, and was at one time a prosperous businessman in Baltimore but reversed his fortune and his intellect. He believed himself heir to millions, and that conspirators were keeping him from taking possession of his property, and he carried around with him a circular tin box containing numerous papers and charts to establish his claims. For a long time he was regarded as a harmless crank and his giant figure was a source of amusement around congress, the departments and the courts.

It was quite easy to get rid of him by making pretense of endorsing his papers and referring him to some prominent public man whom he would immediately start in search of, and as those who thus amuse themselves generally gave him some small gratuity he managed to live and pursue his "claims" from day to day. At last, however, his threats began to take specific form, being chiefly directed against two of the district judges and Mr. Sam Randall, then chairman of the house committee on appropriations. He gradually settled down with the opinion that Mr. Randall was the chief conspirator against him, and his demonstrations against the distinguished Pennsylvanian became so violent that it was found necessary to send the poor crazy "colonel" to the insane asylum. There he died two days ago, at the age of seventy-three.

Big Brewery Burned.

FARIBAULT, Minn., Nov. 25.—Godfrey Fleckenstein's brewery, which was erected in 1866, was burned at midnight Wednesday night. The loss is estimated at $300,000, and the insurance is placed at between $2,000 and $3,000, so that the loss is almost total. The cause of the fire is not known

POINTERS FOR THE "CALAMITY PROPHETS."

Here are some items for the "calamity prophets." At Providence, R. I., the Lonsdale Company and the firm of B. B. & R. Knight have notified their employes of an increase of wages, to go into effect December 5. The amount of the proposed increase is not given out. This action will doubtless be followed by the other cotton manufacturers in the State.

At Lowell, Mass., a meeting of the agents of Lowell cotton mills decided to grant an increase of 7 per cent. in the wages of the operatives. This is to take effect December 4.

The Aberfoyle Manufacturing Company, of Chester, Pa., which makes fine textile fabrics, has determined to raise wages. An officer of the company writes as follows: "Although already paying a high scale of wages we have decided to make an advance of 5 per cent. in all wages paid our weavers. This will affect about two hundred of our employes. Our object in doing this is to draw to our mill's the best labor in the market, as we make only the finest grades of cotton goods, such as up to a few years ago were made entirely abroad." He adds this statement: "We do not share the opinion that a majority of the citizens of this country desire any measure so radical as to menace established legitimate industries."

BEFORE the Chicago convention Republican papers and a good many Democrats also thought honest Grover Cleveland wouldn't stand much show with Tammany against him. But he walked off with the nomination without any trouble at all. After the convention these same Republican editors talked a great deal about Tammany knifing the Democratic ticket. The result of the election is now a matter of history. Cleveland carried Tammany's stronghold by 75,000 majority. The parties who are now predicting "a monkey and parrot time" between the President-elect and the braves should make a note of the above. Mr. Cleveland has demonstrated that he is amply able to cope with Tammany, and whip the Republicans out of their boots at the same time.

CLEVELAND'S exact plurality in Illinois is 29,113. Harrison carried the State four years ago by over 22,000 plurality.

The U. S. Express.

A special from Knoxville says: "From an unquestionably reliable source the information comes that the United States Express Company has captured, or rather will capture, on January 1, 1893, supreme control of the express business on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad lines."

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies use the may California liquid laxative Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, make it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

Pickett-McAtee

The marriage of Mr. E. D. Pickett and Miss Carrie H. McAtee was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride near Fern Leaf. The groom is a well known and successful farmer and dealer in tobacco, while his bride is a young lady who has a wide circle of friends in this city and county. The couple went to Louisville on their bridal trip.

Beckett-Metcalfe.

Mr. R. T. Beckett and Miss Sallie Metcalfe were quietly united in marriage last evening at 8 o'clock, by Rev. Robert Patrick, at the latter's home on East Third street. The groom has been a clerk at Ballenger's jewelry store for years, and is a young man of quiet and industrious habits. His bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. Eli Metcalfe and is an estimable young lady.

The Rileys.

The Riley Dramatic Company, one of the strongest repertory companies on the road, has been secured by the local theater management for a week's engagement commencing Monday, November 28th. The company will present a repertoire of new plays, opening in their new success, "Alberta, the Son of Monte Christo," Mr. T. B. Alexander, a talented young actor, heads the organization, which also includes such well known artists as W. H. Riley, G. M. Hayes, Tony Cummings, A. F. Horrman, Mae Powers, Amy Rosslyn, the Spanish dancer, Dora Densmore and others. Special scenery and a number of very clever specialties will be strong features of each performance.

PURELY PERSONAL.

Father Calmer left this morning for his home in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Dr. Wilson, of Covington, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lee Lovel.

Miss Emma Wallace, of Covington is visiting her cousin, Mrs. J. T. Kackley.

Mrs. Jennie Clarke has returned from a visit to Miss Frank Morrison, of Chicago.

Messrs. Horace Cochran and Buckner Wall, students at Centre College, are spending a few days at home.

Rev. Father Hickey, of Mill Creek, this county, was here yesterday, the guest of Father Glorieux, and to attend the lecture of Father Calmer.

Mrs. George R. Boyce, of Indianapolis, and Miss Mamie Ryan, of Cincinnati, were here yesterday visiting their sisters, the Misses Ryan, pupils of the Academy of the Visitation.

Father Calmer's Lecture.

The lecture at St. Patrick's Church by Rev. Father Calmer, S. J., of Cincinnati, last night was well attended, and all present seemed perfectly delighted. Father Calmer is undoubtedly one of the best lecturers in the country, and his subject, "Christopher Columbus," was an able, historical discourse. The lecturer is very entertaining and had the undivided attention of his audience from the time he began to speak until the last word was uttered. His eloquence, diction and oratory are of the highest order, and it is safe to predict should he ever come to Maysville again he would be greeted by the largest audience ever assemble to hear a lecture.

Rev. W. T. McElroy will preach at Washington Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, also Saturday night and Sunday morning and evening.

THE marriage of Prof. Anson McKinney, of Cincinnati, and Miss Ella F. Galbreath was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Mr. G. B. Galbreath, near Murphysville.

THE State Journal, of Newport, says those Maysville lawyers who think the secret ballot must be used at the next city election are right. The secret ballot was used at the late city election in Newport.

THE Lexington Transcript says the committee from that city who investigated the Harris fuel gas here this week were favorably impressed with it. A move is on foot to introduce the new fuel to Lexington.

MARRIED at the home of the bride's father near Elizaville, Miss Laura Kennell to Mr. Leland Proctor. The bride is a daughter of a well-to-do farmer of Fleming. The groom is a son of Dr. John Proctor, of Elizaville.

A SUPPER will be given by the Ladies' Mite Society of the M. E. Church, South, at the residence of Judge Cole, at corner Limestone and Fourth, on next Friday evening, December 2nd, from 5 to 10 o'clock, for the benefit of the church.

REV. D. H. CLARK, of Mt. Sterling, will preach at the Christian Church on next Sunday at the usual hours. He formerly had charge of a church at Baltimore, and enjoys the reputation of being an eloquent and polished speaker. All are invited to hear him.

THE Frankfort correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says: "Dr. J. M. Frazee, Representative from Mason County, has concluded to be an applicant for U. S. Pension Agent for Kentucky." The BULLETIN does not know whether the Doctor has any aspirations in that direction or not, but one thing is certain, the office would be in most excellent hands if he should be honored with it.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

EXCITING SCENES.

Fire Abruptly Ends Thanksgiving Services at the M. E. Church, South.

The Elegant New House of Worship Badly Damaged—The Loss and Insurance.

The elegant new M. E. Church, South, had a narrow escape from destruction by fire yesterday.

It required nearly two hours hard and heroic work to save the building.

The structure was badly damaged, notwithstanding the prompt efforts to extinguish the flames, and the congregation is again without a house in which to worship, for the time being.

The fire was one of the most stubborn and one of the most difficult to fight that has occurred in this city for years.

The union Thanksgiving services were to be held in the church. In the pulpit sat Dr. Hays, who was to deliver the sermon. To his left were seated Revs. C. J. Nugent and C. S. Lucas, while Revs. Robert Patrick and D. P. Holt occupied seats at his right. The auditorium was crowded, many occupying chairs in the main aisles.

The choir had sung an anthem, the pastor Rev. C. J. Nugent had read the President's Thanksgiving proclamation, and Rev. D. P. Holt, pastor of the Third street M. E. Church, had announced the hymn, "America"—My country, 'tis of thee,—and had about finished reading it, when the alarm was given. Accompanying the cry—"The church is on fire"—came a rush of smoke through the registers.

The next instant most of the congregation were on the point of making a mad rush for the doors, and there was danger of a wild panic in which many would no doubt have been injured, but Judge Cole and several of the officers of the church,—Messrs. John C. Adamson, J. D. Bruer, John W. Boulden, C. C. Calhoun and E. P. Browning being among the number—were near the door and their appeals to the crowd to keep cool and their assurance that there was no immediate danger partially quieted the frightened people, and all were soon safely out of the burning building. Several women came near fainting in the excitement and rush to escape from the room.

The alarm was promptly responded to and the Washington Fire Company was on the scene in a few minutes, followed a little later by the Neptune and Amazons. But in this short time, the basement had become so filled with smoke that it was suffocating.

All thought the fire would be extinguished in a few minutes. Several streams were turned on through the basement windows, but the smoke steadily became more dense. The under part of the flooring had caught from the furnaces, and it was a difficult matter to reach the flames with the streams. All hoped to extinguish the fire without turning the water into the auditorium, but the blaze finally burst through the flooring, and the hose was then carried in and the carpet was flooded. The smoke in the room was so stifling that no one could remain in it more than a few minutes at a time. The firemen worked heroically and persistently however. Holes were finally cut through the floor, and streams were at last playing on the flames. Then a few men managed to reach the basement, and the fire was extinguished, after an hour and a half of hard work.

It was the hardest fight the firemen have had for years. Owing to the location of the flames, and the trouble in reaching them, enough water was used to put out a dozen ordinary fires.

As already stated, the fire caught from the furnaces. They were constructed too close to the floor, and the timber became so hot that it finally ignited.

It is difficult to estimate the damage, but it is thought $3,000 will cover it. A new floor will have to be put in, and the church re-frescoed, probably. The organ, piano, pulpit furniture and chairs for the Sunday school room were all gotten out, but the carpet and furniture of the auditorium were badly damaged.

The loss on the building is fully covered by insurance, the amount of the policies being $5,000—$2,500 in the Royal, Duley & Baldwin agents, and $2,500 in the Phoenix, of Hartford, Mr. John W. Boulden agent. Unfortunately there was no insurance on the furniture.

The officers and the members of the congregation desire, through the BULLETIN, to express their appreciation of the heroic efforts to save the building, and to return thanks to the many who worked so hard and so faithfully in extinguishing the flames, and especially to the members of the fire companies; also to the thoughtful friends who furnished the coffee to the firemen.

The work of repairing will be commenced as soon as possible. The fire yesterday recalls others in that neighborhood, to many of Maysville's older citizens.

December —, 1851, the carpenter shop of Conrad Phister and carriage shop of Jonathan Bierbower on the east side of Grave alley were destroyed. The flames also destroyed the Methodist Church on the site of the present one. The church which burned at that time had been erected in 1821-22, and was the third house of worship erected on the spot, the present church being the fifth one on the lot.

On April 19, 1850, a destructive fire originated in Milton Culbertson's stable on the corner of Second and Sutton, destroying the stable, a salt shed, Drs. Bell & Murphy's office and the Presbyterian Church, and badly damaging the Phoenix engine house and Bierbower's carriage works, and Conrad Phister's carpenter shop. The Presbyterian Church was a two-story brick structure, on the present site of the opera house, and was erected in 1821.

A GRAND HONOR.

Is the One Won by Mr. Milton Johnson at Ann Arbor This Week.

Kentucky and Mason County to the Front as Usual—What the Detroit News Says.

Brief mention was made Wednesday of the high honor won this week by Mr. Milton Johnson at Ann Arbor Law School—the University of Michigan. This university has for years held the proud distinction of being the largest institution of learning in America. Its senior law class is the largest and strongest ever collected together for the study of law. It numbers 380, with an average age of thirty years. The Chicago Herald recently said of this class "It is the pride of Michigan University. There courses through the veins of its members the best blood of the Nation. You have but to look around you to see sons of fathers whose names in American history are synonyms for greatness and gallantry."

The first honor man of this class, Mr. Milton Johnson, is the first man from the South to win the place in any northern University.

The Detroit News speaking of this event says: "The choice of Valedictorian is always a difficult one. The faculty first name six whose scholarship is the highest, and from this number the class makes the selection. Mr. Johnson was no accident or compromise and from the first was clearly in the lead.

As meeting after meeting resulted in no choice so intense grew the excitement and enthusiasm that Professors, citizens and the students of every department turned out en masse, ready to receive and congratulate the winner of so great an honor.

"At the fifth meeting, on the forty-fourth ballot the Kentuckian received ninety-five majority, and amid the cheers and yells of 4,000 students and citizens he was escorted to the platform and in a neat and fitting speech accepted the honor.

"Mr. Johnson is one of the coming men of the South. He is an orator of National reputation, having last April won the prize in the Northern League contest. He is every inch a southerner—genial, happy, a friend to all, with high ideals of right and vigorous and fearless in their defense; he has won an enviable reputation. Mr. Johnson graduates in June with the degrees of B. B. L. and Ph. M."

"Dixie give yourself and us more such men," concludes the News.

Mr. Johnson was chosen Principal of the Maysville High School a few years ago, but owing to some misunderstanding as to the engagement he resigned and concluded to enter the University above named. Previous to his coming to Maysville he had taught two or three years at Mayslick. His parents reside near Germantown, where he was born and where his childhood was spent. His wide circle of friends will rejoice to learn of the fresh honors he has won.

STARTLING REVELATIONS.
Suing Health Officer Jenkins.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Miss Adelaide Nerves, who was employed on Swinburne Island during the recent cholera scare as a nurse, is about to sue Health Officer Jenkins for wages due her. This suit is to be followed, she says, by one for damages and some startling revelations are promised.

Miss Nerves told a number of reporters yesterday afternoon some of the abuses which were practiced on the island. She said that for the first thirteen days she was there the patients could not leave their beds, as there were no clothes in which to dress them. Many of them were, therefore, confined to their beds after they were well enough to be about. There was plenty of clothing sent down by charitable people, she said, but it was not given to the patients. She had seen many bundles of clothing in the parlor of Superintendent Butler's house, but none of it reached the hospital.

Miss Nerves also said that supplies, which she has since learned, were ordered and paid for by the quarantine commission, but they never reached the island. Miss Nerves said that for several days after she got there she had to bathe the male as well as the female patients. Continuing, she said: "I was made sick by the attendants cremating six corpses at one time. This is against the rules, but that made no difference to the men down there. After they had cremated the six corpses, they took all the ashes out of the crematory chamber and divided the bulk into six parts.

"Each of the parts was placed in a bottle which was labelled with the name of one of the six persons which the indiscriminate mass of ashes represented and the bottles were given to friends of the dead as their ashes. No effort was made to keep the ashes separate, and consequently each bottle probably holds ashes of six men, women and children included in the combination cremation. The regular nurses were generally drunk and they gambled regularly instead of attending to their professional duties. I never saw such a state of affairs anywhere as existed on Swinburne Island while I was there."

A JOCKEY'S SCHEME.

He Uses an Electric Battery on the Horse
It Was Ridden.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Jockey Kuhn was caught stirring up Little Crete with an electric battery at Roly yesterday afternoon as the horses came to the post for the third race, the attention of the judges being attracted by the unusual activity of the horse when he came in contact with Kuhn's heels.

The jockey was searched, and under his jacket was found a broad belt with cartridge-shaped attachments, each of which contained an electric cell with wires running to the spurs. Nothing could be done with Kuhn under the rules, but the judges immediately amended the regulations so as to cover the case.

SENSATIONAL RUMORS.

An Indianapolis Gambler Tries to Buy the Superintendent of Police.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—Something of a sensation has been created here by a rumor, which appears to be well founded, that Joe Littler, a gambler, offered to put Police Superintendent Colbert on a salary of $100 per week if he would connive at gambling.

The superintendent was asked about the rumor yesterday, and, though denying it, his manner was such as to give positive evidence of its truth. He has recently been making vigorous war on the gamblers, and some thirty warrants are now out for the arrest of members of the gambling fraternity.

Crossed Over Into Kentucky.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Nov. 25.—Hunters complain that quails are unusually scarce in southern Indiana, and say that this is always the case when the Ohio river is as low in the fall as it was this year. Every fall the birds come from the north in this direction and attempt to cross the river. If it is high they can hardly make it and return to their haunts in Indiana. If the river is low they cross to Kentucky.

Jack Chinn Almost Recovered.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—The starter Jack Chinn, who was shot by an officer at the East St. Louis race track last week, has so far recovered that he will be able to go to his home at Harrodsburg, Ky., where he will remain for a while. He will later on resume his duties as starter at the Hawthorne race track, Chicago.

Found Dead in the Road.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 25.—William Hedrick, living near Stinesville, one of the best known and wealthiest farmers of the country, was found dead in the road. He was hauling wood. Paralysis of the heart is the supposed cause.

Child Burned to Death.

TROY, O., Nov. 25.—The twelve-year-old crippled daughter of Albert Fortbrite was burned to death yesterday in their burning house in the country near here, and the parents were badly burned trying to rescue the child.

Another Victim of Suicide Club.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 25.—I. Kosie Joner, a frail woman, suicided yesterday by taking croton oil, in obedience to the will of a suicide club of which she was a member and whose victims average one a month.

Costly Residence Burned.

SILVER HEIGHTS, Man., Nov. 25.—The costly summer residence of Sir Donald A. Smith, just west of this city, was destroyed by fire last night. Loss $50,000.

Death of Oliver P. Pindell.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 25.—Oliver P. Pindell, ex-president of the Commercial Travelers' association of the United States, died here yesterday, aged forty-five.

Indications.

Fair weather, except snow furrries on Lake Ontario; warmer; variable winds, becoming southeasterly.

HOMESTEAD STRIKERS.
They Did Not Have Much to Be Thankful for Yesterday.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Nov. 25.—The late employees of the Carnegie company did not have much to give thanks for yesterday in the way of earthly blessings. The strike of the past few months depleted their purses, and very few were able to provide for the good things to fill their tables and make merry, as has been their want in former years on Thanksgiving.

The mill men as a rule make good wages and are liberal spenders and are fond of outdoor sports. The streets yesterday were nearly deserted, and an air of desolation seemed to hang over the town which was so prosperous a year ago. No celebration of any sort took place.

About fifty people applied at the Carnegie works for positions yesterday but few were engaged.

FULFILLED HIS PROMISE.

A Hotel Proprietor Kills a Negro for Not Paying a Debt of $40.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 25.—Jerry Constantine, a hotel proprietor, shot and killed a negro named Roberts at Sparta, Ky., yesterday. Roberts asked Constantine to pay a $40 debt for him several weeks ago, promising to pay Constantine on Thanksgiving.

Constantine agreed to pay the debt, and added that he would kill Roberts if he did not repay him on Thanksgiving. Yesterday Constantine met Roberts at the railroad station and asked him for the $40. Roberts said he did not have the money, whereupon Constantine drew a pistol and shot him dead. Constantine is still at liberty.

Killed His Uncle.

COALTON, O., Nov. 25.—Lindsay Goodman killed his uncle, William Goodman, at Wheldon yesterday, by shooting him with a revolver; the result of a drunken quarrel concerning their qualities. The murderer escaped.

Governor McKinley's Father Dead.

CANTON, O., Nov. 25.—William McKinley, Sr., the father of Governor McKinley, died at his home in this city yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, aged eighty-five, of heart trouble.
